REPUBLICANS

Becoming Less Afraid of Roosevelt and Now Openly Attack Him.

G. O. P. Editor Cites Teddy's Losing Fights in the Past Few Years.

Confidence Due to Fact That President Wilson Is Not Improving Position.

CANDIDATES FOR NEXT YEAR

The Republican leaders and their followers in the East have begun to fight Roosevelt openly in the past few days and are delivering some hot broadsides in regard to his candidacy. Several weeks ago the Roosevelt organs launched a campaign for Teddy and openly dared the G. O. P. to repudiate him, the bluff working at first, but now the Republicans have taken courage and are in the attitude of telling him to go and do his "durndest," as they will win without him, and are sincere in believing that he can't hold the Progressive strength in line. The following is a sample of the Republican opinion and is taken from the card of a Massachusetts Republican editor to the New York Sun:

"This year what happened to Roosevelt and his friends in California? The regular Taft Republicans refused to compromise with them in any way, ignored them entirely, with the result that the regular Republicans carried the primary by 50,000 plurality."

"What happened to Roosevelt and his friends in Massachusetts? They were snowed under in the primary. What happened to Roosevelt in New York in 1914? He stumped every county in the State and attacked Gov. Whitman as Barnes' candidate and tried to defeat him, with the result that Whitman was elected by 145,000 plurality."

"In the State of Pennsylvania the same year Roosevelt attacked Senator Penrose, who was a candidate for United States Senator, with the result that Penrose was elected by 236,000 plurality."

"This proves that when a man is wrong he can not repeat his wrong, and the people who were foolish in 1912 can not be misled in 1916. The people of this country have made up their minds to elect a Republican President, and if the Chicago convention has the good sense and sound judgment to nominate a straight out Republican there will be no such thing as defeat for the Republican party in this campaign. To nominate an apostate would be suicide."

Now for the Democratic standpoint. Conceding that Wilson will be renominated, the conservative men in the party are beginning to ask themselves if he will be strong enough to defeat a Republican nominee outside of Roosevelt. There can be no question but that Wilson has lost ground in the last several weeks, regardless of the pro-English press who are busy daily abusing and spurning the "hyphenated vote," as they term it, and claim all of the rest for Wilson. The policy of the administration in Mexico hasn't won a single friend for the Democratic party. The haggling with Carranza while the other cut-throat was allowed to get further away disgusted pretty nearly everyone. Then the pro-English attitude of Wilson and his cabinet dropped the German-American vote, of which it must be conceded there was 20 per cent, at least of that vote in the Democratic party, and the last but not least is threatened loss of the Irish-American vote and support because of the statement made and not successfully denied that Roger Casement and his friends were betrayed into the hands of the British by the Wilson administration. That this is believed by many is shown in the overflow mass meetings in New York City and elsewhere this week when Wilson's name was roundly hissed. Again our President has ever been ready to protest against the massacre of Armenians, the persecution of Jews in Russia and the treatment of Belgians, but to date there has been no expression from him concerning the cold-blooded murder of the Irish revolutionists by John Bull, or protest at the action of his English friends in carrying the man Connolly from a hospital and bracing him against the wall to be shot. His pretty near explanation of the Republicans' failure to win will not help Teddy, as they see Wilson getting weaker.

A group of local Democrats the other day in discussing the State convention to be held at Lexington Wednesday predicted that all would be harmonious and drifted into discussion of next year's municipal election. One man was of the opinion that Sheriff Charley Cronan would make a pretty good candidate for the Democrats to select as their Mayoralty timber, while others spoke of Charley Grainger, ex-Mayor Head, Peter Lee Atherton and Ben Washer. Drifting from that office it was the unanimous opinion that Loraine Mix would be about the strongest timber available for County Judge, while Will Holley would make a strong contestant in some county race.

KNIGHTS SET EXAMPLE

One of the councils of the Knights of Columbus in an Eastern city has adopted a very beautiful manner of remembering their deceased members. Instead of sending a floral tribute this council has decided to send $15 to the Catholic Church Extension Society, McCormick building, Chicago, upon the death of a brother member for the purchase of a chalice in his memory, to be sent to some poor mission. The chalice will bear the name of the member in whose memory it is given, as well as the name of the council who gave it. This is an example worthy of imitation by many of our other Catholic organizations.

ORPHAN PICNIC.

The second meeting of the Catholic Orphan Society in K. of C. Hall drew a large and enthusiastic audience Monday night, when the following parishes were represented: Cathedral, St. Mary Magdalene's, St. Cecilia, St. Louis Bertrand, St. Charles Borromeo, St. John, St. Columba, St. Frances of Rome, St. James, St. Philip Neri and Sacred Heart. Gratifying reports were made by the Chairmen of various committees. Few of them have selected their full quota of members. It is desired to have the members of the committees selected from as many of the parishes as possible, and in order that appropriate selections may be made another meeting has been called for next Monday night at the K. of C. Hall of all Catholics male and female, young and old, and workers will be called for from the audience.

The Dairy Lunch Committee, Lee R. Yates, Chairman, so far appointed are as follows, although other names will be added hereafter:

Mesamee M. T. Higgins, William Meehan, John A. Hoerter, C. A. Walschmidt, John Gorman, Mike Coughlin, John Mulvey Murphy, Thomas McDonough, Frank Elvin, Harry Veeneman, James McCarthy, Munch, W. G. Davies, Frank Sterzetter, E. G. Schaefer, Lula Gray, Lizzie Hale, Herman Kiefer, Annie Nevils, Henry Wolf, Mary E. Schuck, Nellie Meyer, Edward Brady; Misses Josie McCormack, Vinnie Sheekey, Alice Sheekey, Adele Adelberg, Margaret Norton, Ray McGuire, Mary Desse, Catherine Johnson, Katie Devine, Lillian Devinne, Caroline Adelberg, Edna Lanahan, Ruth Lanahan, Mayme Johnson, E. Higgins, Mary Stammerman, Annie McSweeney, Maggie McSweeney, Mable Hale, Pauline Hale, Edith Dowling, and Messrs. Lee R. Yates, Henry A. Wolff, Robert T. Knopp, William Stammerman, John M. Mulvey, Thomas Mulvey, John Murphy, S. G. Greenwell, Stephen Wickham, John Schnell, William Habich, Albert Habich, August C. Wolf, Albert Brand, George Schumate, Barney Campbell, A. Montedonico, Jr., John Scully.

Harry T. Colgan and John A. Doyle are members of the Executive Committee, the other names being published last week. Aggressive work is needed to realize the financial results that the promoters have in view. The Chairmen of the committees are all prominent Catholics and are putting initiative and force back of their work. This is being supplemented by advice and practical help from well known Catholic ladies and gentlemen from all parts of the city. A great gathering is confidently expected for next Monday night, when a mass meeting of all Catholics, as above stated, will be held.

AMBASSADOR TO RUSSIA.

PRIEST'S JUBILEE.

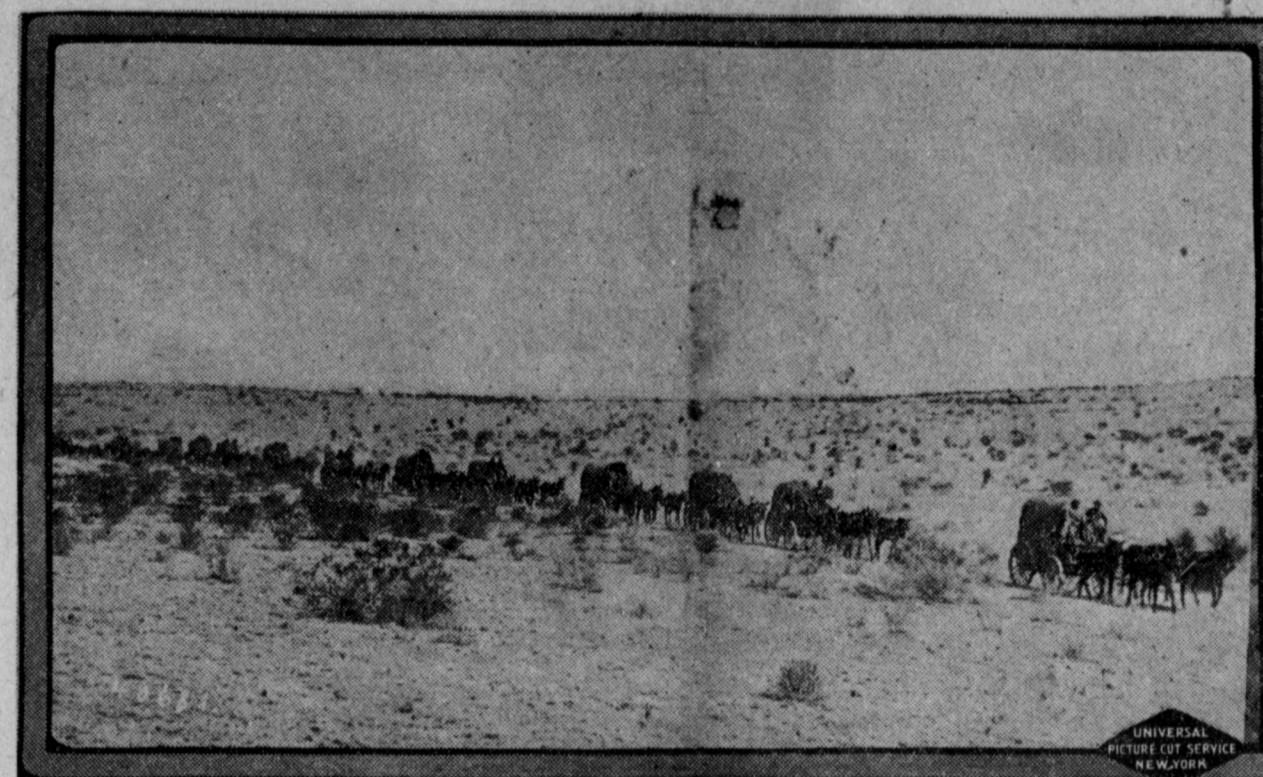

The Rev. Joseph A. Gleeson began Sunday the celebration of the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood, and the Annunciation church, 1650 North Paulina street, Chicago, of which he is pastor, at the same time celebrated the golden anniversary of its founding.

Archbishop Mundelein, Bishop Muldoon, Auxiliary Bishop McGavick, and more than 100 of the clergy took part in the various services, seven of the latter being sons of the parish. Father Gleeson was born in Louisville, Ky., in 1860. He was educated at St. Ignatius College, Chicago, and St. Mary's, Baltimore, and was ordained in Chicago in 1891 by Archbishop Feehan. He became pastor of Annunciation church in 1910.

HELP BUILDING FUND.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle of the Sisters of Mercy at 1152 East Broadway will give their annual euchre and lotto next Wednesday and Thursday. Hand-painted china and fine needlework by the Sisters will be awarded. The proceeds will be devoted to the building fund. Those who attend are assured a really delightful time.

BUGBEAR

How the Separation of Church and State Is Being Interfered With.

Silly Claims of Those Who Are Hostile to the Catholic Religion.

Object to Use of Public Institutions For Any Exclusive Propaganda.

THE PROPER AND ONLY STAND

The separation of State and Church is a matter much insisted upon in this country. It is declared to be an important feature of the American idea. "Patriots" declare loud and long on the dangers of its nullification by the forces of atom. That Catholicism will destroy this happy condition of affairs in America has been repeatedly announced to us. It is in fact one of the bugbears of the anti-Catholic campaign. Little is said, however, of the encroachments of Protestantism on this principle. This is not because much could not be said. In our State institutions and our public schools the non-Catholic denominations have been at work for some time to make these places centers of Protestant propaganda. The proposal for Bible reading in the schools is one phase of this movement. Weakened as they have been by their endorsement of the present system of public instruction, they are endeavoring to recoup by taking over the products of this system for the advancement of their own ideas at the expense of the State.

In the agricultural colleges has this practice been particularly marked. This the General Bureau of the Central Verein has noted before. The rural Protestant church is falling into decay. It has been deeply injured by the conflict with its rival churches of other denominations. It is seeking now to resuscitate itself through the assistance which the State agricultural colleges can give it.

At Purdue University, the State institution of Indiana, for example, an annual church conference was held during the present month. Not one Catholic priest was on the programme, last year not one was even invited to the meeting.

It is plainly a gathering in the interest of the Protestant rural churches and the extension and upbuilding of their work in the rural communities.

Bulletins sent out from the university have announced this conference as taking place on the dates set forth. Surely this is directly aiding sectarian enterprises in their activities.

These efforts to strengthen the Protestant country churches through State aid and the focusing of attention on their problems through conferences under State auspices is not of entirely recent origin.

It dates back to a number of years ago.

The monthly bulletin of the Missouri State Board of Agriculture for April, 1914, in its report of the Missouri Country Life Conference, shows that a great part of the conference was devoted to the problem of the Protestant churches.

The first speaker on the programme dwelt upon the weakening of the churches through "the old sectarian spirit," and of the need of burying the differences which had led to this condition of affairs.

"The Church in Country Life Development," "Church Administration," "The Ladonia Plan and its Purpose," dealing with the problems of rebuilding the church, were among the subjects discussed, all being treated by Protestant ministers.

In addition, a professor from the Bible College, conducted in conjunction with the State University at Columbia, to which publicity has been given by that institution, spoke on "Means of Rural Progress."

It was a thoroughly Protestant programme, and the speeches were published in full by the State of Missouri and distributed by it.

All who are conversant with country life problems must admit that the church is an important factor in answering the questions which those problems present. The strengthening of the church and the extension of its social activities in the community is much to be desired. But such assistance can not come in the form of aid to sectarian endeavors carried on under State auspices. All of the people of the community—Catholics and Jews and unbelievers—contribute to the funds which support our public institutions. They most logically can object to the use of these institutions for the exclusive propaganda of any particular portion of the community, no matter how well intended the efforts thus aided may be. This is a point on which we must emphatically insist. Catholics will continue to oppose this effort to make our public educational establishments annexes to Protestant activities. This is the proper and only stand for them to take. In all our Commonwealths the Catholic inhabitants should be alert and demand that these attempts on the part of Protestant bodies to gain assistance through public agencies should cease. And such cessation, it may be said, should take place at once.

WILL SING FIRST MASS.

On next Thursday, May 25, at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, the Rev. James J. Maloney will be ordained to the holy priesthood by the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Bishop of Louisville, at St. Mary Magdalene church, Brook and College, and on the following Sunday, May 28, at 10:30 a. m., he will celebrate his first solemn mass at Sacred Heart church, Seventeenth and Broadway. His pastor, the Rev. Patrick Walsh, will preach the sermon; Rev. Joseph McAleer will act as deacon, Rev. Joseph Wickie as subdeacon, and Rev. John Fallon will be the master of ceremonies. Father Maloney entered upon his studies in the college at St. Meinrad, Ind., in September, 1905, immediately after finishing school in the parish where he will now have the happiness of celebrating his first solemn mass. He is the son of Garrett and Hannah Dougherty Maloney, and has a wide circle of friends in this city.

SACRED HEART CHURCH.

Everybody is planning to attend the May festival and candy pulling for the benefit of the Sacred Heart school, which takes place Monday afternoon and evening in the school hall at Seventeenth and Broadway. For this event the ladies of the Altar Society have been working very quietly but very efficiently, and equally successful are the managers of the country store. The afternoon will be given over to the children, and good company in a most enjoyable evening to the great number of people who will make this the occasion for a reunion of old and new friends of Rev. Patrick Walsh and the parish. There will be booths, wheels and refreshments, and all who attend are assured a really good time. This is the only affair given by the Sacred Heart church during the year, and always brings out a large gathering.

HAD HAPPY DAY.

Last Sunday was a happy day for the little children sheltered at St. Joseph's Orphanage. It was their annual celebration and an event looked for with intense interest. The orphans were brought into the city and were met at St. Boniface church by the Knights of St. John, Catholic Knights Uniform Rank and the St. Joseph Orphan Society, who acted as escort to St. Elizabeth church where Rev. Father Ascent and his people had prepared an elaborate reception. Quite a number of Louisville priests assisted at the solemn vespers and benediction, and an eloquent and feeling sermon was preached by the Rev. H. J. Rothbent, pastor of St. Francis of Assisi church. After the services the orphans were entertained at dinner, when they rendered several pleasing numbers in appreciation of the treatment accorded them.

FORTY HOURS.

Tomorrow morning the Forty Hours' Adoration will begin at St. Columba's church with a solemn high mass, with the Rev. Father John Kalaher, the pastor, as the celebrant. These impressive devotions will continue until Tuesday, and while they continue a number of visiting priests will assist Father Kalaher.

tempt played the largest part in devising them."

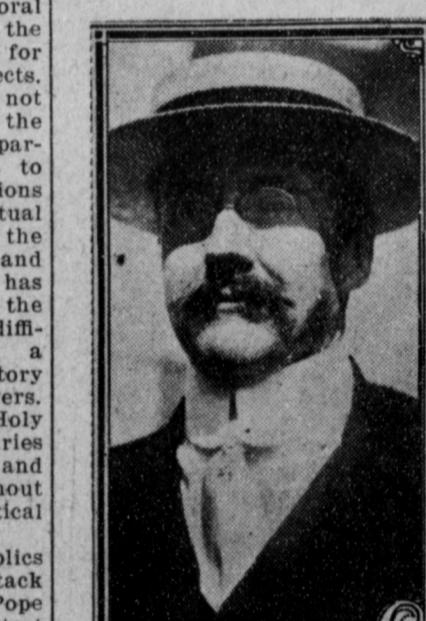

And Pius IX. was right. The annual endowment has never been claimed and has of course never been paid. It is only those who visit Rome realize the invidious position of the Holy Father and the emptiness of the guarantees of the Government. Cartoons insulting the Pope are flaunted openly and in periodicals like the Nova Antologia and the Rivista Massonica the most scandalous attacks are made on him.

Indeed only ten years after the law was enacted the Government failed to protect the funeral procession of Pius X. to the Basilica of St. Laurence, and allowed the mob to organize a hostile demonstration and to attempt to throw the body of the dead Pope into the Tiber.

Every Pope who has been raised to the chair since then has given expression to protests similar to those of Pius IX., in the encyclical, "Ad Beatissimi." Our present Holy Father, Benedict XV., says: "Too long has the church been curtailed of its necessary freedom of action, ever since the head of the church, the Supreme Pontiff, began to lack that defence of his freedom which the providence of God had raised up during the course of centuries. The loss of that protection has inevitably caused no light anxiety in the Catholic body; for all the children of the Roman Pontiff, whether near or living afar, have a right not to be left in doubt concerning the possession of their common father of a true and undenied freedom in the exercise of his apostolic ministry." In 1905 Pius X. wrote: "It is of vital importance for the Roman Pontiff to be in reality and in the opinion of the public in every way independent of every civil power, and to assure this no other means has so far been found except the establishment of an independent territory."

CENTENNIAL AT BARDSTOWN.

During the second week in July will be celebrated the hundredth anniversary of St. Joseph's church in Bardstown, the first cathedral of this diocese, and arrangements are under way to honor the occasion with fitting and imposing ceremonies, worthy of the founders of this historic house of worship. No church west of the Allegheny Mountains has a more eventful history, or is more dearly loved by the Catholic world than this time honored and classic structure in which many of the ablest divines of the denominations in this country have labored. It is not only a landmark in the geography of the State, but a monument to those early Catholic pioneers who gave to this church some of its most brilliant lights and made the present beautiful edifice possible. A statue commemorating the sanctification of the church is being erected a few yards in front of the massive stone steps that lead up to the entrance. This statue is to be life size, surmounting a massive cut stone pedestal, and will be in perfect keeping with the other statues now in front of the church. The foundation and base are now being constructed and are massive and substantial in the extreme, for as Rev. C. J. O'Connell says, "He is not building for today, but for the future." The work of construction is well under way and will be completed in ample time for the centennial.

BEST EVER.

Mackin Council Choral Club, presenting "Tin Soldiers" at Macaulay's the first half of the week, achieved the biggest success of its career. The Choral Club maintained its high reputation, as those who heard the music and songs and witnessed the perfect work of the chorus proclaim it the best work ever accomplished by Aulyn Kanston, Misses Susan Christoph, Bertha Cohn, Evelyn Johnson and Netty Fenton surpassed all expectations and won immediate favor with the audiences, while the work of Thomas D. Cline, Charles Parsons and Aulyn Kanston was all that could be desired. The chorus was perfect and in their pretty and striking costumes made a pronounced hit, being superior to many presented here by professional companies.

Hopes are now entertained that martial law will soon be repealed in Ireland and conditions will have reverted to their normal state. The Reek, known as Croagh Patrick, is the Mount Zion of the Emerald Isle. For on its summit St. Patrick is said to have wrung from the angel many promises for the salvation of people he had made his own.

DESTROY CHAIN PRAYER.

Every few months some people in the same community receive and send out the chain prayer. Nothing evidences more the inclination to superstition of the American people. The Catholic clergy have always condemned the practice and urged their people to destroy these chain prayers when a note accompanying them promises certain joy or threatens grief to the recipient, according as he needs or needs not the warning to recite the prayer on nine consecutive days and remain the prayer to nine others. Has it ever occurred to you what an amount of postage and writing material would be required if the chain were continued even to the tenth set of persons? It would exceed $69,000.00. Destroy the next chain prayer you receive.

BIGOTRY IN FLORIDA.

BIGOTRY has reached its climax in Florida. On Easter Monday three Catholic Sisters were marched as prisoners through the streets of St. Augustine. Their crime was that they had taught colored children to read and write and to worship God. There is a law in the enlightened State of Florida forbidding white people to teach the colored children in schools erected for them. The law, though held to be unconstitutional, was placed upon the statute books of Florida. It was not, however, applied until in 1916, when the "Guardians of Liberty" came into power. They have now given the entire country an illustration of the liberty and enlightenment they have pledged themselves to secure for our land. The conditions existing today in the State of Florida are a disgrace to the men in high office who were elected to represent a whole people and whose oath of office binds them to measure out justice to all citizens of the State, regardless of class or creed. Florida is no place for men who love fair play and justice, who stand squarely on American principles of liberty, so long as the State is controlled by those who hate justice and trample on the rights of their fellow men.

AND WILL NOT.

The first resolution passed at the recent general convention of the Methodist church was to notify the President to stop serving wine to his guests. The hierarchy of the Catholic church are blamed for trying to run this Government, but they haven't got so far yet as to prescribe for the White House table. Thus comments Rev. Father Maher in the Catholic Advance.

RELIEVED FROM SUSPENSE.

The German reply to President Wilson's note is considered satisfactory in substance, and the danger of a break in diplomatic relations has passed for the present. The form of the reply, however, is not pleasing in official quarters. German diplomats are not adepts at phrase-making, so the tone of the note is rather unsatisfactory. But we can let that pass. The important thing is that our friendly relations with Germany will not be interrupted. The President has written a note in reply, accepting the promises made of a due observance of international law by submarines, but making it clear that our controversy with Great Britain over its attempt to establish an illegal blockade is an entirely separate matter. This is not to be a three-cornered controversy, but two separate and distinct controversies—one with Germany and one with Great Britain. We have now assurances of a fair settlement of one of these, and perhaps we shall push the other with some vigor. We trust that further controversies will not arise to disturb the country unnecessarily. While we never believed there was danger of real war with Germany, the effect was the same as if that danger existed. There was agitation and counter agitation and protest which created hard feelings. Now that the storm has blown over, the country breathes easier. Only wish the President wouldn't write any more notes to Germany. They are, as the True Voice says, too much of a shock to the feelings of war partisans in this country.

VINCENNES WANTS MONUMENT.

The Knights of Columbus of Vincennes, Ind., have determined to use every possible effort to have the Father Pierre Gibault monument erected in that city. The Knights of Columbus in their State convention held in Lafayette last week voted to erect a suitable monument in honor of this pioneer French priest, who accomplished so much in the early history of Vincennes.

CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES

IN LOVELY NEW DESIGNS.

The view from your windows is an ever-changing picture—a beautiful moving picture, if you will.

Then why hide it with heavy, clothy curtains?

And again, when your house is seen from the outside it is the appearance of the windows that is first noticed. You want them attractive, don't you?

Quaker Craft Lace Curtains will veil your home from passersby without obscuring your view or shutting out the light and air.

Quaker Craft Lace Curtains are the latest development in window draperies.

Kentucky Handicap day, June 3.

Rates are being made on the various roads and the appearance in the event of Roamer, Borrow, Waterblossom and Royal II., all of which are to have a workout for the stakes in the Clark Handicap today, in itself one of the big features of spring racing here, makes its prospects highly interesting.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

The pretty day and no counter attraction were in a measure responsible for the big crowds at the Twin City League games Sunday and stirring contests were furnished in three out of the four games, the exception being the K. C. and Oriole game, the former winning by the one-sided score of 22 to 5. Mackin and Trinity staged a sensational battle, the West End Y. M. I. boys winning in a ninth inning rally, helped by errors, making four scores, the game ending 9 to 8.

Olympics won over Bertrands in a 9 to 5 game, Scully's aggregation pounding the Bertrand pitchers for several hard drives. The Champs playing without their star, Horne, lost out on the Imperial in a 6 to 2 game, featured by good pitching.

Division 1 meets next Thursday night. President Mark Ryan asks that every member attend this meeting.

The business of Division 1 next Thursday night will interest everybody. A large attendance is looked for.

Illinois will present Mrs. Mary McWhorter as a candidate for National President of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Crawfordsville had a fine meeting and invitation Sunday week. Mrs. John Arthur, the State President, was present.

The New York County Board condemns England for the darkest crime England ever perpetrated—murdering those who sought freedom from tyrannous rule.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Minneapolis entertained the Irish History Club on Wednesday night, when Past National President Regan delivered an address on Irish literature.

IREISH-AMERICAN NIGHT.

Tonight is Irish-American night at the manufacturers' exhibit at Exhibit Hall, Fourth and Broadway, and a big crowd is expected to be on hand to enjoy the entertainment offered and at the same time acquire beneficial knowledge concerning the city's products.

Attorney J. J. Kavanaugh has been chosen by the Entertainment Committee as the speaker of the evening and an interesting address is promised.

Every citizen and housekeeper in Louisville should make it his or her business to attend this exhibit, being open daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Next Tuesday evening has been designated as Avery night and the employees of that plant will be the guests of the exhibit, the following Tuesday to be set aside for the employees of the Dow Wire Works and Louisville Pillow Company.

In connection with the exhibit tonight the following list of prizes will be awarded:

Ten dollars in gold, Louisville Cement Co.; six boxes of Cremol vanishing face cream, Allan & Co.; box Kis-Me gum, American Chicle Co.; case Anita ginger ale; sack Obelisk flour; five sheets popular music, P. L. Burks & Co.; pound City Club tobacco; photograph, Caulfield & Shook; twelve cans Dixie Cleaner; baseball bat, Hillerich & Co.; box assorted pickles, Hirsch & Co.; belt, Hodapp & Miller; jar mixed pickles, Knader & Lucas; quarter barrel Dolly Varden flour; handsome pillow, Louisville Pillow Co.; ten bars Magic-Keller soap; case Rivo Cola; quart Grand Dad whiskey; three pounds Peacock coffee; box stationery, Standard Printing Co.; flower box, Alfred Struck Co.; iced tea set, R. J. Thornton & Co.; dozen towels, J. S. Walker & Co.; three pounds Jay Zee coffee, Zinsmeister & Henle.

RECENT DEATHS.

James McGuire, aged fifty-four, who was Captain of the No. 2 Engine Company twelve years ago, died Wednesday afternoon at Waycross Hills Tuberculosis Sanatorium after a long illness. He is survived by a brother, Thomas McGuire, a policeman, and a nephew, Frank McGuire, aide to Assistant Chief Carroll. The body was taken to the home of his brother, from where the funeral was held.

By the death of Mrs. Mary E. Slattery, St. Mary Magdalene parish loses one of its most esteemed and highly esteemed members.

She was seventy-nine years old and was the widow of John J. Slattery, at one time President of the Todd-Donigan Iron Company, and had suffered with fortitude a long illness of nephritis. Mrs. Slattery is survived by three children, William B. Emeritt, P. Slattery and Mrs. Hamilton Service. The funeral took place Friday morning, attended by many sorrowing friends and relatives.

FONTAINE FERRY.

The splendid attractions presented at Fontaine Ferry Park thus far have pleased the patrons of that popular pleasure resort, which has before it a most successful season. Manager Bilger has been presenting an excellent vaudeville bill and the theater has been crowded at every performance. The park this year presents a beautiful appearance and the Natiello band concerts are of the most artistic character, being divided between the classical and popular numbers. For the tired Fontaine Ferry will prove an ideal resting spot.

DOUGLASS PARK MEETING.

Nicholas Holloran, one of the most highly esteemed Irish Catholics of Louisville, went to his eternal reward Wednesday night at the home of his son on Hepburn avenue. For many years he was a dealer in tobacco and later in the grocery business at Eighteenth and High streets, and was ever the friend of the poor. He was a native of Ireland and took much interest in the welfare of any from that land. Mr. Holloran leaves three children, Mrs. J. J. Flynn of Beechmont; Edward J. and W. S. Holloran. The funeral took place Friday morning from St. Brigid's church.

READY TONGUE.

"Patrick," said a big man of the town, laying a patrizing hand on the young Irishman's shoulder, "I wish I had your tongue."

"Sure, sir," grinned Pat, "but 'twould do ye no good without me brains."

MAKES CELERY CRISP.

Celery should be allowed to lie in water, in which a little salt has been added, for at least an hour before serving. This makes it crisp.
